Montana Supreme Court Chooses New Court Administrator

The Montana Supreme Court today announced that Beth McLaughlin has been hired as the new Court Administrator for the Judicial Branch. She replaces Lois Menzies who retired the end of June.

McLaughlin has worked for the Judicial Branch as Court Services Director since 2002.

“Beth is very well qualified for this position” said Chief Justice Mike McGrath. “She has worked with District Courts and Courts of Limited Jurisdiction throughout Montana. She will make a great Court Administrator,” McGrath said. Justice Beth Baker said, “McLaughlin’s extensive background with human resources, her breadth of experience with the judicial branch, and the relationships that she has built with the Court’s various constituencies will serve the judicial branch well.”

McLaughlin will start her position immediately.
